The Romance of the Family

It was given to a rising never seen in these parts when they just as suddenly filed in, glad to have borne witness (distrustful as they were of educated people). There remained only the question of money. And they knew in their lascivious hearts they'd strike

a quick deal. The girl rocked on the porch,
faster and faster.